BREAKOUT ACTIVITY FEEDBACK

"had a lot of conversation how combining grade levels does and doesn't make sense. One of those things if reconfigure middle school into k-7, then 8-9 and then 10-12 (at north campus)"

"this part of town feeling central to this end of Prescott, it would be a shame to lose the community feel to the school spaces we have here. So what about keeping Taylor Hicks property and level the existing and use the additional field space to build a bigger elementary. Then middle school and high school."

"don't want to lose that Prescott feel, don't want to lost that downtown feel."

"nobody was too keen on option C, we hear a lot that there is a lot of capacity left on C that we could grow into but not seeing how is it enough for us? It seemed like maybe not enough properties left for us on the table to do what we need to do."

"early learner: could you have a K-2 or pK-2 where you focused all those reading specialists, all those math specialist and interventions. Getting a kid everyday at their level. Would one of these properties be really nice to house something like that and focus on those early foundational skills."

"one of the pros of moving north in all options is drawing from Chino Valley, from Prescott Valley, and south."

"Option B, there is a big advantage of not having so many transitions."

"hybrid of option C, sell all elementaries, GM and MH, build K-8 and a new high school up north, convert current PHS into K-8."

"pros with Option B and C, are that Abia Judd and Granite Mountain are newest schools in the District, so being able to continue to utilize those facilities seemed great to use."

"Option C scared us a little bit in sense of potential pitfalls of selling off all that property, but what if it doesn't work? What if we still have capacity issues after we sold off all this property?"

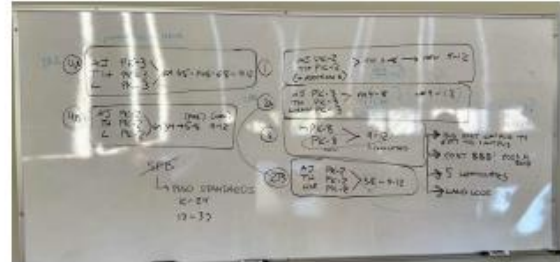

"building new elementary instead of new high school. We like K-8 as a concept. Most people in our group attended a K-8 school and had positive feelings about it and would be happy to have our own kids attend something like that."

OPTIONS RECONFIGURATION

DISTRICT FEEDBACK

- Transportation
  - Avoid bussing kids past a school to get to another one
- Staffing (efficiency)
- Overall Cost of Each Scenario
- Bond Implications
- Landlock Issues and Boundary Concerns
- Campus Parody
- Future Flexibility
  - District prefers to not sell any current property to ensure they keep assets for future growth
  - Sale of Mile High Middle is still intended however

OPTIONS ASSESSMENT

Livestream link: <https://youtu.be/9bdc1qJLQI>

OPTIONS ANALYSIS

OPTION COMPARISON

- Allows some room for growth but not full potential
- Grade level wings can be more easily created
- Very minimal space for building experience upgrades and renovations

- Allows room for growth and grade separation
- Less age difference between 5th and 8th graders
- Large space for building experience upgrades and renovations

- Allows maximum room for growth and future planning
- Brings school to standard middle school configuration
- Large space for building experience upgrades and renovations both exterior and interior and throughout

VISIONING MEETING 3

The visioning committee was divided into groups to discuss the options by using the scoring rubric. Each member of the committee filled out their scoring rubric for collective data, which was then shared with the overall group after the breakout session.

7. INFORMATION ONLY ITEMS

7.A. Summary of Current Events

7.A.1. Superintendent – Superintendent Howard noted, no report tonight.

www.prescottschools.com/calendars

7.A.2. Governing Board Members

Stan Goligoski noted, over this last month I attended the PHS pep rally at the high school. First of all, our kids are awesome. They were pumped up. The amount of attention and respect for the classes said something. Browsing amongst the classes and the games that were played it really brought me back to high school days. We have an impressive student body. They did recognize Dr. Taylor Hicks Jr. When he passed, In lieu of flowers people donated four thousand dollars to the student council. It was a great sign of respect from the student council to ask the family to be there so it was a big honor. I went to the PHS girls' soccer game it was very, very cold as well as the boys' soccer game and I'm glad to see that Phil Reed is back as the head coach there doing a great job so I'm sure we'll climb to glory again there. Then we watched the last girl's basketball game. Unfortunately, they lost by a couple of points but I was so impressed mainly with the band that was there and the lone bugler that played the national anthem, almost flawless and did an amazing job. Then the boy's basketball with their win over Bradshaw Mountain which put the Badgers in a three-way tie for the region so very awesome.

Livestream link: <https://youtu.be/9bdc1qJBLQI>

Jane Robertson noted, I don't know if anybody else went to that basketball game, I know Stan was there, but I was overwhelmed not just by the behavior of the Prescott high school students but the behavior of the Bradshaw students as well. It was absolutely heartwarming to see that game to see the enthusiasm from the entire crowd I didn't hear any name calling I didn't hear any booing I heard clapping when Bradshaw scored a three-pointer and it made me proud to be part of this whole establishment it was amazing.

President Andy Fraher noted, I've met with the principal of the High School Mr. Adam Neely as well as Molly Orr at the early college program and our director of special education Dr. Harris to get started on the liaison project. I also attended a basketball game and have been collaborating and working a little bit with the elementary principals as I can here and there. I'm getting started on those things and I appreciate all the work that you all are doing.

7.A.3. Governing Board Student Representatives

Miranda Adams noted, so to piggyback on the basketball because the boys team this year is especially worth bragging about. The team will participate in the open State boy's basketball tournament which includes the team's 4A, 5A, and 6A Divisions. PHS senior Landon Francis recently signed on February 3rd to an Oklahoma school to play college football and he signed in the cafeteria area and it was really cool. So, congratulations to him. Spring sports tryouts for track and field, softball, baseball, tennis, and boys' volleyball started this week and athletes need to register and fill out their forms on the FinalForms website to participate.

Elle Long noted, we have various soccer and basketball games coming up. Soccer girls play State on Thursday. This is their first match so whether they play home or away will be determined today. I may have more news on that later. PHS is planning a graduation night party on May 26th at the James family Prescott YMCA. Grads can attend for free and there will be games, performances, and food. STUCO is holding a denim drive from January 25th to tomorrow February 8th to gain donations to go to teen's closet which we had an amazing presentation on a month ago. It is time for seniors to order their cap and gowns which can be done online through Prescott school's website. Scholarship newsletters and events are still occurring to help graduating students. Thank you.

President Andy Fraher noted, any other reports?

Stan Goligoski noted, you know I'd be remiss if we did not talk about two of our longtime Educators that we lost this last month. one Mr. Haydorn who taught my social studies class as a junior and Mr. Eddie Villaborgi. They died within a month of each other. They co-taught around the 90s. If you didn't know Eddie he was the voice of the Badgers for many, many years. He started the Sports Hall of Fame, one of the founding members of that. He was inducted in the circle of Excellence as a teacher, a long-time tennis coach and he was very involved with the history of Prescott and the history of Prescott Athletics. I'm sure there are archives in his house that that we need to grab. I told Coach White that if there is anything in his house we can grab, we'll carry on his legacy.

Eddie Villaborgi did it right and taught many people. My brother was his student teacher, just a legacy, a truly remarkable man. He's not going to have any type of service so I think this is probably the best service that we're going to have for Eddie. If we give a round of applause for all his years.

8.B. STUDY AND VOTING SESSION - If a member of the public wishes to speak to one of the following voting items, please complete and return exhibit BEDH-E, Public Request to Speak (<https://www.prescottschools.com/Page/558>) to Sarah Torres, Administrative Assistant to the Governing Board prior to the study and voting session of the agenda.

For items with the potential to have many speakers, the overall speaking time may be adjusted by the Governing Board. Speakers will be called to speak in the order in which they signed up, first come, first served.

Requests to speak that are emailed will also be first come, first served. Email requests can be sent to sarah.torres@prescottschools.com at any time.

63 members of the public completed Exhibit BEDH-E. 8 members of the public left the meeting early and did not speak. The first speaker began speaking at 01:09:25 of the livestream link.

President Andy Fraher noted how grateful the board was that so many people are showing interest in this public process. President Fraher then read the following statement:

Livestream link: <https://youtu.be/9bdc1qJBLQI>

Our Governing Board is interested in hearing from all who want to speak. We are also determined to maintain appropriate decorum. Please be sure that your comments:

- Are respectful and constructive.
- Are specific to the voting item for which you have signed up to speak. If a speaker strays off topic for too long, they will be asked to conclude their remarks.

We want every person who is interested in speaking to be treated with respect and to have their full time to speak, so:

- Our Board Administrative Assistant Sarah Torres will announce the speakers
- Speakers will be called in the order they requested to speak.
- As your turn to speak approaches, please move to be near the podium, to ensure smooth transitions, and speak directly into the microphone. If speakers are not ready when called, they may be moved back in the order.
- We plan to give every speaker up to (3) minutes if possible. If you are still speaking at (3) minutes, you will be asked to finish your remarks.
- Brief, polite applause after a speaker is fine, if you are so inclined. No shouting please (positive or negative).
- While a person is at the podium, please no comments or other intentional noise such as cheering or booing from the audience during their comments. If public decorum is not maintained, we will recess the meeting until order can be restored.
- Board members according to Arizona revised statutes 38-43101 are not allowed to comment on public speakers. Upon conclusion of the public call board members may respond to any criticism or personal attacks upon board members, staff, or others in attendance. Please speak directly into the microphone so that everyone can hear you in the overflow room. Our time will be kept on the device up here. You'll get a green light when your time is started, a yellow light as you approach 30 seconds, and a red light when your time is expired and I'll also interject at that point. Again, board members, according to Arizona revised statutes we are not to respond during the public call.

8.B.1. Consider adopting the K-12 Social Studies Curriculum, as presented.

RELEVANT INFORMATION:

Our last social studies curriculum adoption was in 2002/2003. Arizona adopted new social studies standards in 2018. Our 2002/2003 curriculum did not address the new standards. Teachers have been supplementing our current curriculum in order to teach the standards and ensure we are teaching social studies using best practices. A committee of K-12 teachers, administrators, district staff, instructional coaches, parents, and community members was created to review the curriculum. They developed criteria for evaluating social studies curriculum based on state expectations, research, experience, and our current instructional framework. The committee explored 6 social studies curriculum programs, identified their strengths and weaknesses based on our developed criteria, and came to a consensus on a recommendation for a K-12 social studies curriculum adoption.

The K-12 social studies committee determined they would like to use TCI as their social studies curriculum.

Stan Goligoski moved that the Governing Board approve the K-12 Social Studies Curriculum, as presented. Jane Robertson seconded the motion.

Andy Fraher voted Aye, Stan Goligoski voted Aye, Jane Robertson voted Aye, Kara Woods voted Nay and Linda Conn voted Nay. The motion passed 3-2.

Presenter: Kelsey Secor, Director of Instructional Support handed out the following documents to the Governing Board. Mrs. Secor, Emily Thomas, Whitney Williams, Linde Lisbona, Jessica Kiehl Phillips, Scott Miller and Dan Tyler, PUSD teachers, shared the following presentation which includes a video from TCI. This presentation can be viewed at 03:37:00 of the livestream link. The TCI video can be viewed by clicking on this link:

TCI Information for Prescott Unified School District 1

TCI looks forward to working with Prescott Unified in the implementation of TCI's History Alive! and Social Studies Alive! materials. We appreciate the thorough review of TCI materials by both Prescott Unified School District's review committee and the Citizens & Educators for Excellence in Arizona Education organization.

We also appreciate the district sharing the feedback received from the Citizens & Educators for Excellence in Arizona Education organization. When we receive feedback from any group, we conduct an editorial review and determine if changes are appropriate. We value the detailed information provided by the group, and it is currently going through our editorial process. If we determine that changes to our text are needed, they will be applied to the program in a timely manner. We are still completing our review process for this feedback. However, upon initial review, we are recommending some changes. Here are two examples of editorial changes we are planning to make:

Civics Alive! Foundations and Functions, Lesson 2, p. 45

CHANGE: "Because presidents are elected directly by the people, they may be more responsive to the public than to their party. As such, they may enjoy more legitimacy and public support than a prime minister." → "Because presidents in the United States have to earn voters' support to get electoral votes, they may be more responsive to the public than to their party. As such, they may enjoy more legitimacy and public support than a prime minister."

RATIONALE: This sentence is part of a section that generally compares parliamentary vs. presidential democracies (worldwide), but we agree that some students might misread our original statement as implying that the United States directly elects its presidents.

Government Alive! Power, Politics, and You, Lesson 2, p. 29

CHANGE: Added the following text: "These are also often referred to as presidential republics. The United States is a constitutional, democratic republic. Being a republic means that the government is limited in its power and that minority rights are explicitly protected in a country's system of laws. The United States is also democratic because the people have the power to vote for representatives and leaders regardless of their status."

RATIONALE: Clarifies the political concepts of democracy and republicanism for students. Political scientists use "constitutional/presidential democracy" and "constitutional/presidential republic" (among other terms) to describe the United States. We agree with reviewers that the U.S. has a republican form of government. The people also hold the ultimate power, which is why the U.S. is also referred to as a "democracy," but it is not a "direct democracy." (And we are not a parliamentary democracy/republic.)

In addition to reviewing feedback and implementing changes as appropriate, TCI would like to offer further information on our curriculum and development process.

How TCI Ensures Materials are Unbiased

TCI utilizes a rigorous development process to ensure that content is scholarly and free of bias. All content goes through an editorial and scholarly review process to ensure accuracy and balance. This review process includes, but is not limited to the following:

- Creating materials that align with state and national standards for content and skills.
- Utilizing primary sources to bring in artifacts, images, and voices from the historical period.
- Reviewing of content by multiple writers and editors, including both staff and content experts.
- Conducting fact checks of key content both internally and with the use of third-party organizations such as Turning Leaf, APass Education, and Westchester Educational Services.
- Completion of scholar reviews from a wide range of university scholars. These scholars are selected based on their areas of expertise and vary from program. Lists of these scholars are provided in the front of each Student Edition.
- Continual editorial review of all user and outside group feedback, following the same process described above.

How TCI Uses Inquiry to Engage Students in Critical Thinking

TCI's programs are focused on building critical thinking skills, driven by the inquiry process as outlined in the Arizona History and Social Science Standards (see p.7 of the standards here for a summary of the Inquiry Arc).

Each unit includes an inquiry project that engages students in forming their own answers to a compelling question. Throughout the unit, students gather evidence from the curriculum as well as outside resources. Students then make a claim and support it with the evidence they have gathered and their own reasoning. Following the inquiry process, students are encouraged to take action. This action is often presenting to the class or writing an argument based on evidence.

In addition to the inquiry process, students are given opportunities throughout reading, activities, and other encounters with content to analyze information, think critically, and identify perspectives. Students are then given opportunities to practice using those skills, including writing summaries of information, evaluating and discussing sources, and making historical arguments.

How TCI's Lessons are Structured

TCI's considerate text is the core resource for students as they learn new content. In addition to providing grade-level appropriate reading, the narrative, and visuals are designed to be considerate for the reader. TCI's considerate design includes:

- Single-column text
- Vocabulary definitions called out at the point of use
- Chunked content
- Large and compelling images
- Clean and visually appealing page layout free of distracting callouts

TCI's programs follow a clear and understandable sequence, including clearly labeled units, lessons, and sections. We also realize that classroom needs vary, so we have designed our materials to be flexible to meet those needs.

TCI offers flexible learning options that provide multiple pathways to learning, including resources such as hands-on classroom activities, cutting-edge video activities, and meaningful reading and notes. The content also offers flexibility through additional online readings that expand on the core text. These readings allow students to dive deeper and often include primary sources, biographies, literature excerpts, and connections to today. Teachers can use and assign these as needed in their classrooms.

TCI's Scale and Experience

TCI has built a reputation for quality and excellence over the thirty years we have been developing curricular programs. We are proud to have served thousands of schools and districts over the years. More than 2.5 million students and 100,000 teachers around the country utilize TCI materials.

TCI has partnered with districts of varying sizes and demographics. These include large districts like Los Angeles Unified (CA), Columbus City School District (OH), and Anne Arundel County Schools (MD), as well as smaller districts like Millard Public Schools (NE), Carmel Clay School District (IN), and Forest Hill Public Schools (MI). No matter the size of the district, TCI works to ensure teachers and students have quality materials and the most up-to-date technology.

Why adopt social studies curriculum now?

- PUSD's last social studies curriculum adoption was in 2002/2003
- Curriculum cycles are typically every 7-10 years
- From 2008-2013, Arizona decreased soft capital funding by 80% for curriculum, building needs, furniture, etc.
- In 2013 Arizona stopped funding soft capital but added DAA (District Additional Assistance) at nearly half the rate soft capital was funded in 2008
- In 2018, Arizona adopted new social studies standards
- In 2021 Arizona began funding DAA at rate similar to the level that soft capital was funded in 2008
- Curriculum companies have now had time to address new state standards

- Gathering a variety of evidence
- Recognizing continuity and detecting change over time
- Utilizing chronology to examine cause and effect relationships
- Drawing and combining reasonable inferences from a variety of sources to build an understanding of complex questions

Inquiry Arc

Children and adolescents are naturally curious and - in their effort to understand the world around them - have a bottomless well of questions. Learning to investigate questions in the social studies discipline areas results in a deeper understanding of content and a stronger connection to the material.

Students must gather and evaluate evidence, formulate arguments, critique counter claims, and communicate their conclusions through many modes including writing, speaking, and visualizing.

- Inquiry Element 1: Developing Compelling Questions
- Inquiry Element 2: Constructing Supporting Questions
- Inquiry Element 3: Gathering and Evaluating Sources

Arizona Department of Education Definitions

While the Arizona Social Studies Standards may be used as the basis for curriculum, they are not a curriculum.

Standards are what a student needs to know, understand, and be able to do by the end of each grade. They build across grade levels in a progression of increasing understanding and through a range of cognitive demand levels. Standards are adopted at the state level by the Arizona State Board of Education.

Curriculum refers to resources used for teaching and learning the standards. Curricula are adopted at the local level.

Instruction refers to the methods or methodologies used by teachers to teach their students. Instructional techniques are employed by individual teachers in response to the needs of the students in their classes to help them progress through the curriculum in order to master the standards. Decisions about instructional practice and techniques are made at a local level.

Course Considerations for High School UNITED STATES/ARIZONA HISTORY

Using inquiry in history, high school students explore a variety of peoples, events, and movements in United States history with a focus on inquiry into the evolution of American democratic principles, changes in society, economic and geographical development, and the emergence of the United States as a global power. A United States history course can be organized in a variety of ways including thematic, chronological, regional, or through case studies. Special attention should be paid to how Arizona and its diverse cultures and individuals contribute to United States history. It is expected that students in elementary and middle school will have analyzed events, documents, movements, and people in Arizona and United States history from the colonial period through the Cold War. It is recommended that this course maximize time in a manner to allow for depth of content and connection to current issues and events. The course should include but is not limited to content from the following historical eras:

- Revolution and a New Nation including but not limited to causes of the American Revolution, reasons for American victory, impact of the Revolution on politics, economy and society, and the creation of the American political system looking at origins, and key political and social figures

Course Considerations for High School WORLD HISTORY

Using inquiry in history high school students explore a variety of peoples, events, and movements in world history with a focus on inquiry into the impact of social, geographic, political, and economic influences on historical events. A world history course should include the study of the peoples of Africa, the Americas, Asia, and Europe. A balanced approach to the Eastern and Western Hemispheres is needed for a comprehensive study of world history topics. It is recommended that the course begin with the 15th century to allow for depth of content and connection to current issues and events. A world history course can be organized in a variety of ways including thematic, chronological, regional, or through case studies. The course should include but is not limited to the following topics of study:

- Political Revolutions such as French Revolution, Russian Revolution, and the Chinese Cultural Revolution

Instruction

PUSD educator uses curriculum and primary sources found within to establish baseline knowledge (short readings on Enlightenment, slideshow of events, figures, ideas, timeline, etc.).

Students engage in primary source analysis of key historical documents to dig deeper, practice working with primary sources, and to create an argument with supporting evidence.

- Comparison of John Locke's Two Treatises of Government and Baron Montesquieu's The Spirit of the Laws and their impact on the creation of an American government.

In the documents, students look for:

- How the ideas shaped US society, how US leaders responded to societal needs/changes.
- Historical context, audience, purpose, point of view, significance.
- Relevance to 21st-century America, human rights, our future as the "Land of the Free".

PUSD educator introduces Choice Board assessment for students to choose how they wish to demonstrate content and skill mastery of the state standard(s). Students complete assessment.

Sample Assessments

- Pretend you are a writer for the French Revolution Gazette. Write two newspaper articles using what you know about the revolution and its impact on the people of France. One taking a pro-revolution stance and the other taking an anti-revolution stance. Include a title for each. Each article must be at least 3 paragraphs.
- Create a poster for one of the following global revolutions: American Revolution, French Revolution, Haitian Revolution, Mexican Revolution or South American revolutions. Make sure your poster includes a title, at least one visual, who the major leaders were (and information about them), the importance of Enlightenment philosophy, and at least 3 details about the revolution and its impact on that part of the world.
- Write a 5-paragraph essay comparing the similarities and differences between two of the following documents: American Declaration of Independence (1776), the Declaration of Rights of Man and Citizen (1789), the American Constitution, including Bill of Rights (1789), the Haitian Constitution (1801). Use evidence from each text to support your analysis.

Sample Assessments

- Create a diorama of a key event from any of the revolutions examined in class (i.e. French, American, Haitian). Then write a short reflection paragraph examining why you chose this particular event and how it relates to our goal of understanding how Enlightenment thought changed the political and social landscape of Europe and the Americas.
- Conduct a podcast with the Enlightenment philosopher you felt had the greatest impact on the American revolution or on America's government today: John Locke, Baron Montesquieu, Rousseau, Voltaire, or Thomas Hobbes. Write a list of 10 questions with answers that provides evidence to support your claim. Must be recorded.
- Create a poster that describes how the Enlightenment helped lead to the Atlantic Revolutions (US, France, Haiti, Latin America). Note for each area of the world what key ideas and which philosophers impacted or guided the revolution. Include a title, a map of all countries that experienced revolution, and at least one visual for each revolution).

K-12TH GRADE SOCIAL STUDIES CURRICULUM ADOPTION

Core Discipline Descriptors

Civics

The civics standards promote the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary for informed, responsible participation in public life. Productive civic engagement requires knowledge of the history, principles, and foundations of our Constitutional Republic and that each person has both human and civil rights. People demonstrate civic engagement when they address public problems individually and collaboratively and when they maintain, strengthen, and improve their communities and society. Civics also requires an understanding of local, state, national, and international institutions. Civics encompasses practices such as voting, volunteering, jury service, contributing to public processes, and the public discourse.

Economics (including financial literacy)

The economic and financial literacy standards promote the concepts and tools necessary to make reasoned judgements about both personal economic questions and broader questions of economic policy. Economic decision making requires a strong understanding of the ways in which individuals, businesses, governments, and societies make decisions to allocate resources among alternative uses. This process involves the consideration of costs and benefits with the goal of making decisions that will enable individuals and societies to be as well off as possible. The study of economics explains historical developments and patterns, the impacts of trade, and the distribution of income and wealth in local, regional, national, and international economies. Economics also gives students the skills to analyze current issues and public policies.

Geography

The geography standards promote the use of multiple geographic tools and emphasize geographic reasoning to understand local, national, regional, and global issues. Geographic reasoning rests on deep knowledge of the Earth's physical and human features including the location of places and regions, the distribution of landforms and bodies of water, and changes in political boundaries. Geography provides an understanding of the Earth's places and regions, how people with diverse backgrounds interact with their environment and enhances understanding of history, civics, and economics.

History

The history standards promote both historical content and historical thinking skills to prepare students to apply historical thinking to any historical era and context. The study of history is vital because it promotes the development of analytical skills, comparative perspectives, and question and answers modes of critical judgement that promote thoughtful work in any field or career. It is vital for students to study both United States and world history, so they can analyze the human experience through time, recognize the relationship of events and people, and interpret significant patterns, themes, ideas, and turning points in American and world history. Students apply the lessons of history to their lives as citizens of the United States and members of the world community.

District Governing Board needs to give its approval. A total of 20 people will be able to go on the trip (the limit of the permit.) PHS students will be instructed, mentored, and supervised by PUSD staff and volunteers.

Specialized river equipment (rafts, life jackets, and required safety and hygiene gear) will be rented from a river equipment expedition outfitter. Any students who lack basic camping gear will be able to borrow what they need through the Challenge Club equipment pool.

Trip expenses will include food, PUSD activity bus usage costs, river permit fees, and equipment rental. Total trip expenses are estimated to be $150 per person. We will be asking each participant to make a $50 contribution, with scholarships offered to students with identified financial hardships. Additional expenses will be paid from existing Challenge Club funds.

Trip dates are Friday, March 24 through Tuesday, March 28th. Students will be given excused absences for any classes missed while on the trip.

A brief itinerary is as follows:

March 24: depart Prescott High School mid-morning and drive to the Sand Island Recreation Site near Bluff, Utah. Camp at Sand Island Group Camp.

March 25: Pack, rig boats, and launch on the San Juan River. Camp along the river on the nights of the 25th, 26th, and 27th.

March 28: Float to the take-out point, Mexican Hat Utah, de-rig, load up and return to Prescott by mid-evening.

This is an amazing opportunity for kids in the challenge Program to travel and learn history, geology, ecology, and river running in an iconic setting on a classic Southwest river. We are confident that Challenge is up to the Challenge!

Students enrolling in the district from another school complete an enrollment application which is reviewed by registrars which includes a question regarding previous gifted placements.
